

During the 1982 Malvinas War, handwritten letters were vital lifelines, carrying words of hope, anxiety, and love between frontline soldiers and their worried families back home.

1. In what year did the Malvinas War take place according to the text?

a) 1978

b) 1982

c) 1986

2. According to the text, what served as vital lifelines between frontline soldiers and their families?
a) Handwritten letters
b) Telegrams
c) Radio calls

3. Which emotions and words were carried in these letters?
a) Anger, frustration, and resentment
b) Hope, anxiety, and love
c) Fear, indifference, and sadness